

Issue 14: Smart regions, sustainability-driven regional policies, and the use of technology

Sustainable Regional Futures 2022
Topic	Submission deadline	Publication date
Issue 12: The transition towards a green economy	Monday, April 18 th	Published
Issue 13: Pathways to a regional circular economy	Monday, August 22 nd	Published
Issue 14: Smart regions, sustainability-driven regional policies, and the use of technology	Monday, November 28 th	The first week of December

For 2022, we have proposed the overarching theme of Sustainable Regional Futures to the regional studies community.

Word limits for each section

Regional Insights: Articles of between 800 – 1000 words providing a fresh take on regional studies.

Research Frontline: Articles between 1500 – 2000 words reflecting innovative regional research.

Spotlight: Articles of 2000 – 2500 words taking an in-depth look at key issues for regional studies.

Research Hacks: Articles of 800 – 1000 reflecting on academic experiences and practices.

Submission Procedure

If you are interested in writing a contribution for Regions ezine, please email your idea (i.e. tentative title) and desired section (see below) to office@regionalstudies.org or, in the alternative:

- Regional Insights and Research Hacks: Eduardo Oliveira at eduardo.hsoliveira@gmail.com
- Spotlight: Stefania Fiorentino at sf696@cam.ac.uk
- Research Frontline: Robert Bowen at BowenR16@cardiff.ac.uk